PROJECT AIR

Our organization was created to bring awareness of individuals with more severe disabilities and speech impairments, who are not always seen or treated as competent members of society. Whether it is due to a lack of knowledge about disabilities or a refusal to accept differences, individuals with such disabilities deserve to be treated as everyone else.

Our goal is to educate about disabilities, to eliminate stigmas in communities, so that individuals with disabilities are viewed as equal participants in society, as opposed to having to deal with the unsubstantiated perception that too many encounter. These individuals are too often not only judged incorrectly, but are treated and interacted with inappropriately, simply because of the way their disability forces them to appear, move, or sound.

Let us all make it our mission to end this inequity by allowing Project AIR to educate you, so that you in turn can educate others about individuals with disabilities!
